

Care of The Newborn Infant

BY

Dr. Ashraf Mohamed El-Saghier

M.D. pediatrics

Care of the newborn infant

Care of the newborn starts immediately at delivery and continues thereafter.

I. Routine delivery room care:

1. Support of thermoregulation (temperature):

- To keep body temperature 36.5-37 c through warm room, wrapping in warm blankets and the use of radiant heat.

Care of the newborn infant

2. Support of respiration:

- By clearing airways, head dependent position and brief nasopharyngeal suctioning.
- If there is no respiration, start tactile stimulation by rubbing gently the back and sole of the foot

Care of the newborn infant

➢ Methods of tactile stimulation in neonates

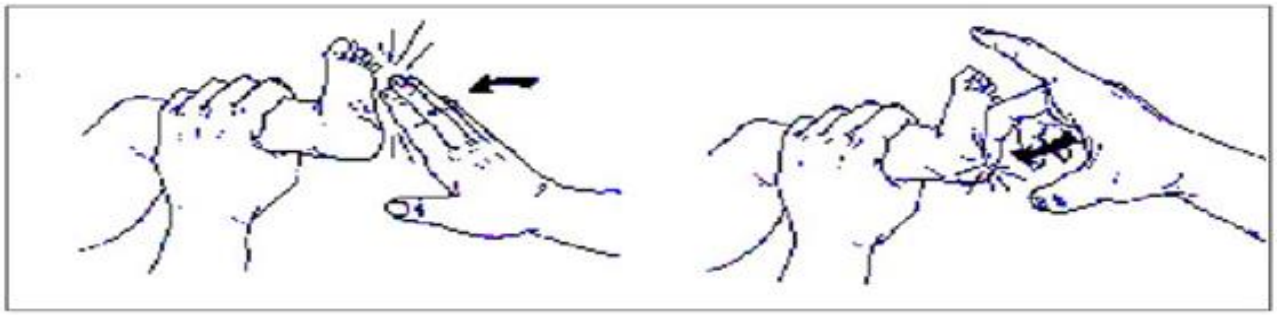

Resuscitation technology

- Tactile stimulation : Rubber the Back

Resuscitation technology

- Tactile stimulation : Tap the plantar

Care of the newborn infant

- If there is no response and a cry within 30 seconds use mask and bag (Ambu bag) and oxygen.
- If there is no response, endotracheal intubation is needed.

Care of the newborn infant

3. Umbilical cord care:

- By clamping, ligature and cutting well away from the umbilicus (at least 2 inches away).
- Paint with antiseptic solution e.g. alcohol.

Care of the newborn infant

4. Avoidance of infection:

- By clean room, mother and her clothes, blankets and attending personnel.

- Follow sterile cord cutting and ligature and paint it with an antiseptic solution and instill antibiotic eye drops.

Care of the newborn infant

5. Apgar score assessment:

- By evaluation of the heart rate, respiratory effort, muscle tone, response to catheter in nose, and body color. This is performed by the attending doctor.

6. Successful infant mother bonding:

- By avoidance of separation of the infant from his mother and by immediate start of breast feeding.

Care of the newborn

II- Later care of the newborn:

This include cleaning, full examination and feeding

1) Cleaning:

- By bathing, antiseptic eye drops and umbilical stump dye painting if not done before, keeping clean blankets and clothes.

Later care of the newborn

2) Full examination:

- By the attending doctor

3) Feeding:

- Initiate breast feeding as early as possible and within the first hour after birth.
- When breast milk is not available, you need to give milk formula.

Thank You!